SALZWELTEN SALZBURG & CELTIC MOUNTAIN

ON THE TRAIL OF "WHITE GOLD"

SALT IS THE "ESSENCE OF LIFE" AND ITS HISTORY IS CLOSELY ENTWINED WITH SALZBURG'S ROOTS. AT SALZWELTEN SALZBURG, YOU'LL EMBARK ON AN EXCITING JOURNEY THROUGH TIME, SPANNING FOUR EPOCHS. A MINE TRAIN, WOODEN SLIDES AND MYSTERIOUS TUNNELS TAKE YOU DEEP INTO THE HEART OF THE MOUNTAIN. THE SALINA CELTIC VILLAGE, THE SALT MANUFACTORY AND A VIRTUAL SCAVENGER HUNT WITH AUGMENTED REALITY EXPLORATION APP TURN THE DÜRRNBERG INTO A CELTIC MOUNTAIN FULL OF ADVENTURES.

LET'S GO UNDERGROUND

The mine train takes you deep into the Dürrenberg on an exciting journey through time: from modern mining and salt production back to the Celtic miners' era, via the magnificent Baroque period and the dark Middle Ages. Swift wooden slides and a wide network of winding tunnels ensure action abounds. The raft trip across the mystical salt lake takes you into the dazzling world of baroque Salzburg. And along the way, you'll cross the only underground border between Austria and Germany.

SALT MANUFACTORY EXPERIENCE

At the Celtic Mountain, a modern showcase saltworks has been built in place of the old "Solestube". Here you can see for yourself how premium-quality, hand-scooped BAD ISCHLER gourmet salt is made from Dürrenberg's natural brine. Watch over the master salt maker's shoulder as he goes about his work.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL EXCAVATIONS

Large parts of the Dürrenberg were populated as early as 600 BC. Mining and trading the "white gold" brought great prosperity to these people during the Iron Age. To date, around 400 graves and many remnants from the settlements have been excavated. Rich grave finds, such as the famous beaked jug, gold jewellery, weapons and everyday objects, are now on display at the Hallein Celtic Museum.

SALINA CELTIC VILLAGE

Take a walk around the reconstructed SALINA Celtic Village and get a feel for how the Celts lived 2500 years ago. In close cooperation with the Hallein Celtic Museum, the small village on the Dürrenberg has been built based on the latest scientific findings and made accessible to the public. It brings a bygone era back to life. The SALINA Celtic Village, the new salt manufactory and the themed playground are best explored interactively with the Salzwelten app, which features virtual adventure games and an augmented reality (AR) function.
